Open a Book to a New World

I love to go to the library for a good book
I walk the aisles and take a hard look
Books inspire my deepest imagination
And spark my very inner creation
Books can open your mind to new places
And paint pictures of lots of new faces
They can speak about the worlds from present and past
From lands afar, near and vast
One of my favorites took me to France
Where under the Eiffel Tower I watched people dance
Another took me down the Amazon River
Where a crocodile gave me a shiver
So next time you see an interesting new book
I suggest you pick it up for a better look
